NIETZSCHEANA #3

NIETZSCHE SCHOLARSHIP IN ENGLISH

A BIBLIOGRAPHY

1968-1992

SUPPLEMENT

B. BRYAN HILLIARD

and

EARL NITSCHKE
NIETZSCHE SCHOLARSHIP IN ENGLISH
A BIBLIOGRAPHY (1968-1992)

SUPPLEMENT

B. Bryan Hilliard and Earl Nitschke

Foreword

A year has passed since the appearance of Nietzsche Scholarship in English. During this time I have had the pleasure of receiving a number of letters expressing support and gratitude. Many of these same people also took the time and effort to note omissions and errors in the bibliography. While the errors were few, the omissions were many; Nietzsche and his ideas, it seems, really are quite popular.

In an effort to make the bibliography as complete and useful as possible, Professor Earl Nitschke and I have joined forces. Dr. Nitschke, in addition to being an accomplished Nietzsche scholar, has quite an impressive knowledge of and access to material written about Nietzsche and his thought. Together we have endeavored to produce a supplement that, used in conjunction with the original bibliography, will make readers aware of the immense amount of material available and will facilitate the cultivation of particular interests and research projects.

The following supplement lists those materials written in or translated into English during the period 1968-1992; however, a small number of references for 1993 are included in anticipation of the continuation of this project. There are 632 citations arranged in alphabetical order by author. This list includes books, articles, book reviews, and Ph.D. dissertations. We have also included at the end of the supplement a list of corrections to the previous bibliography. With few exceptions, unpublished papers and papers presented at meetings are not listed. Very few abbreviations are used so that each listing is self-contained. With this supplement the total number of references listed in the bibliography is 1,912. While there is little doubt that this remains an incomplete list, we feel certain that the most significant literature on Nietzsche is represented. Professor Nitschke and I have worked to make this bibliography the best of its kind now available.

Several people contributed significantly to my and Professor Nitschke's work. L. B. Cebik, Caren Bryce Funt, Jacob Golomb, James Hillesheim, R. J. Hollingdale, Laurence Lampert, Paul Mikiowicz, Alexander Nehamas, George Stack, and many others wrote letters of support and noted omissions. We also would like to thank Richard Schacht for his support of and interest in the project. Finally, my wife Brenda spent long hours helping me prepare the text, and I am eternally grateful for her support.

B. Bryan Hilliard
August 1993
Copyright © 1993 North American Nietzsche Society

NIETZSCHEANA are occasional publications of the North American Nietzsche Society, produced in the central office of the Society at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign under the editorship and supervision of the Executive Director, and distributed as membership benefits to members of the Society. They are not for sale, and may not be reproduced for further distribution without the express written consent of the Executive Director. Inquiries should be directed to:

Richard Schacht, Executive Director NANS
Department of Philosophy
105 Gregory Hall
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
810 South Wright Street
Urbana, IL 61801
Telephone: (217) 333-1939; FAX: (217) 244-8355

Bambach, Charles R. "History and Ontology: A Reading of Nietzsche’s Second 'Untimely Meditation'." Philosophy Today 34, 3 (Fall 1990): 259-272.

-C-

Cadelo, James P. "Nietzsche in America: The Spectrum of Perspectives." Ph.D. Diss. Purdue University, 1990.

Clowes, Edith W. "A Philosophy 'For All and None': The Early Reception of Friedrich Nietzsche's Thought in Russian Literature, 1892-1912." Ph.D. Diss. Yale University, 1981.

-D-

Davies, Richard D. "Nietzsche in Russia, 1892-1919: A Chronological Checklist." In Nietzsche in Russia, pp. 355-392. See Rosenthal, ed., 1986. This is a revised and abridged version of Davies' "Nietzsche in Russia, 1892-1919: A Preliminary Bibliography" which appeared in Germano-Slavica 2 (Fall 1976) and (Spring 1977).

-F-

Franks, Joan M. "Aristotle or Nietzsche?" Listening 26, 2 (Spring 1991): 156-163.

-H-

Hanson, Ola. Friedrich Nietzsche: His Personality and His Philosophy. Translated by Herbert W. Reichert and with an introduction by Earl R. Nitschke. Mount Pleasant, MI: The Enigma Press, 1968. This is a translation of Hanson's 1890 essay Friedrich Nietzsche: Seine Personlichkeit und sein System.

Munson, Malcolm E. "Mickunas, Rhetoric and Dionysian Discipline." International Studies in Philosophy 20, 2 (1988): 47-52. This is a commentary on Algis Mickunas’s article, "Nietzsche and Rhetorical Aesthetics" which appears in the same issue of ISP.

-N-

---

-P-

Poole, Ross. "Nietzsche: The Subject of Morality." Radical Philosophy 54 (Spring 1990)

---

-S-

Seigfried, Charlene Haddock. "On the Significance of Schrift's Genealogy of Nietzsche's Philology." International Studies in Philosophy 20, 2 (1988): 97-104. This is a commentary on Alan Schrift's article, "Genealogy and the Transvaluation of Philology" which appears in the same issue of ISP.

Stack, George J. "Emerson and Nietzsche's 'Beyond-Man'." Dialogos 56 (Fall 1990): 87-101.

-T-

-U-

-V-

-W-

---

---

CORRECTIONS

to

NIETZSCHE SCHOLARSHIP IN ENGLISH
1968-1992

